

AFRO-AMERICAN HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC
METRO ATLANTA CHAPTER
MARCH MEETING

Janice Bryant will present a workshop that will give some basic strategy suggestions on how to break through the 1870 brick wall that many African American researchers struggle with.

Janice Bryant, a retired educator. She has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology from Northeastern University in Boston, MA and a Master's Degree in Education from Lesley University in Cambridge, MA. She is a member of the African American Historical & Genealogy Society –ATL Metro Chapter (AAHGS) and the Georgia Genealogy Society (GGS). She has been a genealogist and family historian since the age of 19. She has researched her ancestors living in North Carolina and Virginia before the Revolutionary War, and in the states of Georgia Tennessee, Texas, and Illinois from early in the 19th century.
